Portfolio comment

July proved to be a mixed month for global equity markets with the MSCI World posting a -1.7% (USD) return dragged lower by Japan (-2.3%), Europe(-1.9%) and the UK(-1.9%), whilst the US bucked the trend posting 0.3%. Emerging Markets fared better with the MSCI EM Index returning 1.4% (USD) led higher by China and Indonesia. Global bond markets dropped 0.4% (USD), as measured by the Citigroup World Government Bond Index.

U.S. Gross Domestic Product (GDP) came in at an unexpectedly high 4% for Q2 which brought cheer to global stock markets. This was particularly pleasing following the disappointing contraction of 2.1% for Q1. Consumer confidence continued to decline in July following on the decline in house prices for the first time since 2011. In the U.K. the Bank of England kept interest rates and asset repurchases unchanged while the European Central Bank's (ECB) latest bulletin confirmed its intention to maintain current monetary policy following on from the recent stimulus package. It intends keeping interest rates at extremely low levels and will introduce a programme of quantitative easing should the Eurozone economic recovery be seen to be faltering.
