Portfolio Commentary

In spite of increased volatility, global equities continued to advance as sound economic data coupled with encouraging earnings numbers, vied for supremacy against the continued geo-political uncertainties surrounding the proposed US punitive tariffs being imposed on certain Chinese imports.

Developed markets continued to deliver positive returns with the MSCI World Index returning 1.7% in total return terms. This was not the case with emerging markets, as the continued threat of a global trade war resulted in a risk-off scenario which resulted in the MSCI Emerging Market Index delivering a negative -8.0% in total Dollar return terms.

In view of the scale of volatility experienced by the local equity market of late, it is perhaps somewhat pleasantly surprising to see that the FTSE/JSE All Share managed to return a positive 4.5% for the quarter led by Resources (21.7%) on the back of rising oil prices. Industrials were up 4.0% and Financials 1.8% while Property losses continued (-2.2%).
