Quarterly commentary

In November 2022 the South African Reserve Bank (SARB) raised the repo rate for the 7th consecutive period by 0.75% to 7.00%. This represents an overall 3% interest rate hike over the calendar year in their efforts to reduce inflation.

Headline inflation (CPI) which peaked in July 2022 at 7.8% subsequently slowed to 7.4% in the November 2022 print. While this remains above the top end of the SARB's target range (3% - 6%), it provides some comfort that inflation is likely topping off and not increasing further.

The local bond market (ALBI) delivered positive returns for the quarter of +5.68% ahead of local cash (STEFI) at +1.57%, as the risk-on environment pushed up bond prices.
